SNOWBOUND FAMILY SAVED; STARTS HOMEWARD

'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

Members of the San Francisco board of education started something in the right direction yesterday when they took a stand against employing teachers from outside the county. The board contended that there were plenty of teachers in the city just as capable as those that are imported.

Like the other side of the stream appealing to the angler and the grass on the other side of the fence appearing greener to the graser, we are inclined to think that outsiders know more about certain things than our own townspeople. Chances are we just haven't had a chance to fathom their type of bluff.

There are several organizations in Richmond that might learn a great deal from the stand taken by the San Francisco board of education.

Stunt flying got another black eye in the southern part of the state recently when two movie planes crashed and 10 persons were killed. A review of most airplane accidents will reveal that most of them are due to foolishness on the part of one or both of the pilots. Isn't it about time for a law to halt foolhardy spectacular stunts? It would aid aviation in the nation.

Yes, business was certainly rotten in 1929. Take the case of the J. C. Penny company, a nationwide store chain. Yesterday directors of the company announced an annual dividend of $2.50 for the year as compared to $2.33 per share in 1928. And the directors are planning to make a payment of $3 per share in 1930. Go on, howl you pessimists.

Two alleged burglars held in the Pescadero jail decided they didn't like their surroundings and proceeded to kick a hole in the wall and make their escape.

Only 708 drunken drivers lost their automobile licenses in this state during 1929. Somehow or other we must have met each of these about a dozen times before they were finally shorn of their dangerous weapon.

Even though some of the citizens of St. Louis would like to erect a statute of Charles Lindbergh, no such statute is to be erected. Lindbergh told the committee in charge in no uncertain terms that he did not want a stone statute.

This cold snap is just a sample of what you would have for about half of the year if you were unfortunate enough to live in the northeast. It's not so bad, but then all of us will be glad when it is over.

Mayhem Suspect To Be Returned Home

MARTINEZ, Jan. 9.—Sheriff Claude Haven arrived in Martinez last night from Olympia, Wash., for the purpose of returning Frank Oliveira, alleged mayhemist, to that city to stand trial.

SPUR TRACK NEARING FINISH

With a statement from Southern Pacific officials yesterday that the spur track to the Filice and Perrelli Canning company plant site on the inner harbor would be ready for use Tuesday morning, Charles Stockholm and William Radtke, contractors for the job, yesterday morning prepared to move their equipment to the plant site and start construction immediately.

Equipment to be used in the construction of the $250,000 plant is now being loaded and will be taken to the site immediately after the track is opened to use, it was announced yesterday.

A contract for the construction of the plant which will employ from 600 to 800 persons was signed some time ago, and the builders have been anxious to get at the job, as the work is to be rushed to completion by May 1 of this year.

The structure is to be 312 feet square, and is to be a one story structure of reinforced concrete and will be constructed on piling. Wooden piles will be driven and capped with concrete pile followers. This is the first operation in the construction of the large cannery. It was stated yesterday that some of the material for the structure would be brought in by barges.

William Knowles is the architect on the construction and has retained William Older as his inspecting engineer. Older acted as inspector for H. J. Brunnier, consulting engineer on the construction of the Parr-Richmond Inner Harbor Terminal.

Canning equipment is to be installed as soon as the plant is completed so that it will be possible to take care of a majority of this year's pack of fruit and vegetables, officials of the canning company state dyesterday.

C. C. BUILDING TRADES MEN DISCUSS 5 DAY WEEK

Whether or not members of the Contra Costa Building Trades council will adopt the 40 hour week schedule now in effect at Oakland, San Francisco and other bay cities will be definitely decided upon next Friday.

Meeting last night, the council held a discussion of the proposition but took no action other than to agree to talk the proposition over with Richmond contractors and get their opinion.

40 Hour Week

The 40 hour week has been in effect in many cities for the past several months and has met with the approval of union men and contractors, it was reported.

A majority of the delegates present at last night's meeting were in favor of the proposition, it was reported.

At the present time building mechanics work from Monday morning until Saturday noon. Saturday afternoon is a holiday.

Under the plan under discussion, the men would work from Monday until Friday night, working eight hour daily.

Meeting Friday

Local contractors will be interviewed during the week by members of the council and if they are in favor of the plan the change will be made.

A report will be made at the session planned for next Friday night at the Brotherhood hall.

TRIO FOUND SAFE IN CABIN

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9—(U.P.)—Three persons held in their small mountain cabin for nearly a week by high snow drifts and freezing temperatures had received aid tonight from Henry Mermo, veteran mountaineer, who reported he had found them all well.

The family whose fate had been in doubt until Mermo sent out his cheering report, was Mr. and Mrs. John Nightengale, and a seven-year-old son.

Mermo sent his good report over telephone wire he had repaired to the Stanislaus power house of the Pacific Gas and Electric company which, in turn, flashed the news to the United Press here.

He said Nightengale, a Stockton aviator, had found a supply of food sufficient to last the party two weeks close to the cabin.

The mountaineer sent in his first report of the Nightengales' safety from Cow Creek, about 12 miles below the Nightengales' cabin.

He said the missing party had been so well they had started the homeward journey today and had reached Cow Creek at 5 p. m. Broken telephone wires, he said, had prevented an earlier report, although he found the Nightengales at 5:45 p. m. Wednesday evening.

Mermo had been joined by Jasper Meuli, another expert for tracking through the snow, to bring the family to Cow Creek.

Night In Cabin

The Nightengales were to spend the night in a cabin of the P. G. & E., while Mermo and Meuli

Meade Evidence Suppressed, Charge

SANTA CRUZ, Jan. 9.—UP—Charges of suppression of evidence that would aid in solving the mystery of the death of Mrs. Cora Meade were made tonight to Santa Cruz authorities by Sydney Long, friend of the Meade family.

Mrs. Meade was found shot through the head and at the time police declared her death a suicide. The shooting had lately been laid to liquor smugglers.

Failure to summon material witnesses at the corner's inquest was also charged by Long.

An attempt to take his life have been made, Long told police. He said he suspected men who wished him to keep quiet on what he knew of the inquest held after Mrs. Meade's death.

FITTS AID CHECKS STORY OF PEAVY IN TAYLOR MURDER

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8—(U.P.)—A representative of the Los Angeles district attorney's office is now in Sacramento checking up on the story of Henry Peavey told the United Press in connection with the murder of William Desmond Taylor.

Taylor was killed in Hollywood in February, 1922. Peavey was his personal servant and appeared at the inquest almost eight years ago but failed to give anything of significance in his testimony.

Peavey then disappeared from Los Angeles and was located in Sacramento by the United Press and in an exclusive interview said that only a part of his story had been told at the inquest because the "district attorney's office to'd me to leave out part of what I had to say."

Saw Quarrel

According to Peavey he saw a motion picture star quarreling with Taylor shortly before the noted director was murdered. This is the part of his testimony which he claims the district attorney's office in Los Angeles eliminated at the coroner's inquest.

Reports from Sacramento late today said that a special investigator of Buron Fitts, Los Angeles district attorney, had arrived and would take a statement from Peavey.

Obtaining a statement from Peavey in connection with the eight year old murder indicates, according to many observers, that the Taylor case will be reopened.

Key Witness

Peavey was one of two "key" witnesses located by the United Press this week. The other one was Otis Hefner, paroled convict, who claims he was associated with Taylor and Edward Sands in selling drugs and that he saw the

TALE OF OLD STARTING TODAY

A tale of swashbuckling days, when generals sold their services and their armies to the highest bidder, is unfolded in "General Crack," a novel by George Preedy which will start this morning in the RECORD-HERALD.

The novel has been adopted to the movies, starring John Barrymore in the title role.

General Crack is the adopted son of the fighting Duke of Krukland. He is the son of a gypsy and is one of Russia's best generals.

His duchy is lost to the enemy and he is a man without a country. Undaunted he becomes a soldier of fortune.

Emperor Leopold of Austria, approaches the hauty adventurer and asks that he aid him in his war. General Crack declares that he will, if he is given half of the ruler's money and the hand of his sister in marriage. The emperor is forced to agree and General Crack orders his troopers forward.

While passing a gypsy camp, General Crack meets and loves a gypsy girl. He marries her according to tribual rites and presents her to the court at Vienna.

Then General Crack meets the emperor's sister. Now the intrigue starts and a story that commands the interest of every reader is unfolded.

Preedy is an English author whose period novels have been hailed throughout Europe and America. He has a background of exhaustive study of conditions in the old world at the start of the Nineteenth century and presents an accurate picture of life in those days.

The story has been filmed by the Warner Brothers and was shown at New York. Movie critics hailed it as one of the best talkies of the year.

Start this story today and read it day by day in the RECORD-HERALD.

2 WILL FACE NOOSE TODAY

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 9—(U.P.)—Two men who will hang on the gallows here Friday, tonight preferred music from a squeaky phonograph to spiritual consolation by the prison chaplain.

Walter E. Burke, 32, Sacramento theater robber and James H. Gregg, 35, Fresno murderer, were served with a regular dinner of a quality usually reserved for officers and guards.

Their after dinner hours were spent with the phonograph and letter writing. Burke's letters were to his mother and two sisters, who paid him their last visit Tuesday.

Burke has virtually recovered from a broken arm received when he and Tony Brown—who hanged last Friday—attempted to escape and were overpowered by guards.

Warden Court Smith said tonight that if the present bad weather conditions keep up, he will order a special lockup during the executions.

HEAVY RAIN, HAIL STORM HITS L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9.—UP—The "winter of the big snow" in Los Angeles was in 1882—an Jan. 10 to be exact—and people thought that today was going to be the start of another one.

They were fooled, however. The weatherman said the white coating reported in various parts of Los Angeles was only hail, but the natives, knowing little of the characteristics of snow, thought they were seeing a sure enough snowfall.

The weather bureau records showed that on the day named in 1882 a "sowstorm" didn't leave

THE WOMAN OF IT

By Marguerite Mooers Marshall

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1929

"Feminine Business Technique"—Worse Luck!

EVERY little while somebody sings a sweet song of how women have just as much opportunity nowadays as men—

Of how women earn as much money as men, and are as likely to be promoted—

Of how "the barriers are down" and "all avenues are open"—

MARGUERITE MOOERS MARSHALL

And, in short, the woman in business
Is on a free and equal footing with men.
It's not true—
It never will be true—
As long as the business woman not only must be competent, strong, reliable, ambitious and all the other save-and-strive adjectives—
But also must be a technician of TACT;
As long as the business woman, in order to succeed, must MANAGE men,
Must WIN men,
Must WORK men by her feminine appeal!
Nobody warns a young man to put himself over on the Big Boss or Customer
By the way the young man DRESSES, or the shaving soap he uses.
By the impression of personal liking and wistful admiration he conveys,
By his skilfulness in not showing himself too clever!
If you really think woman engages in business on equal terms,
We beg you to read the piece on "Feminine Business Technique"
Which Catharine Oglesby has written for the current "Plain Talk,"
And in which various successful women, earning from $3,000 to $20,000 a year,
Give the low-down on how they've put themselves across.

One woman explained how she had to dress
In order to captivate the buyers of men's suits.
She tried being trim and tailor-made,
Until one day she happened to make a business call, on her way to a dinner party—
"And therefore wearing a lacy hat and a chiffon dress.
"Never," she goes on, "was I so cordially greeted.
"Never was I treated so well.
"Never before had my order mounted so high.
"That night, I sent my suits to my sister and bought a wardrobe of chiffons.
"I have worn them ever since.
"To sum it up, I think that business men want your mind to act masculine,
"But they want to see you look feminine.
"So I have deliberately developed 'chiffon technique.'"
And Miss Oglesby herself comments:
"Usually I have found it's a wise woman who looks sweet and talks smart.
"The smartest woman I know, a woman whose vision and ideas and achievements
"Have revolutionized her own particular field of industry,
"Looks like a Watteau shepherdess—purposely.
"Perfumes should be chosen and worn in the office pianissimo rather than fortissimo.
"And right here I should like to add
"That the best preparation for any conference is to powder your nose."
Another candid young woman explains that she has succeeded by cultivating a feminine mental attitude—
The true-and-tried "I think you're wonderful" line—
"Men," she says, "prefer to be liked because they are themselves.
"The more successful they are, the more they respond to personal appreciation.
"When I find a man to whom I seem to appeal because I am a woman
"I let him know that he appeals to me because he is himself;
"And he blossoms into conversation and statistics.
"Frequently I remain wistful and wondering.
"The interview becomes a duet between a big strong man and a dear little woman."
A highly successful woman secretary cautions women
Never to let a man realize that they are more intelligent or efficient than he,
Even as regards the smallest details.
"Never," says another business woman whom Miss Oglesby interviewed, "win an argument with a man—
"Insinuate your point of view, don't force it."
"Let your mood match the boss's—
"Be grave or gay, according to his emotional thermometer," advises still another woman;
And the final warning is, "Don't think of his faults—
"Let a man think that you think that he is gracious and courteous and honest and brilliant.
"And he will do his best to measure up to the notion."
Now, we're not challenging Miss Oglesby's dope—
On the contrary, we believe it's the simple truth
As regards many offices and many men—
And "pity 'tis, 'tis true"—
For it is also unjust and humiliating to the last degree!
As somebody says, it may be easier to work a man
Than to work a typewriter—
But, if a self-respecting young woman elects to work a typewriter,
Why, in addition, should she have to work a man?
Her brother can concentrate on the typewriter—or whatever the job may be—
Without having to use charm and cajolery as assists to his career.
As long as a woman who earns must divide her energies
Between making good and "making" some man—
So long is it sheer nonsense to talk about woman's equal opportunity in the business world.
Yet something tells us that the inequality will endure
While men are men, in addition to being Big Bosses and Customers—
Or at least until so many women are themselves in the Big Boss and Customer class
That ambitious young men will have to acquire a "masculine" business technique.
And dress pretty, look pretty, talk pretty
To impress the women who are their superiors in the business world—
All we can say is that it will serve the men jolly well right!

EVE WINKS

When a man decides he had better economize, he begins by cutting his wife's allowance.

Even a clever wife will sometimes ask her husband where he has been—but she does it merely to test the resourcefulness of his imagination.

Trust no man out of sight and few in sight—for even when a man sits beside you, you can never tell what he's thinking about.

ROSA ZAGNONI MARINONI

According to the report transmitted telepathically from Ookonga, prophet of Mars, to Dr. Hugh M. Robinson of London, 1930 is to be a year of terrible trouble, but according to the deflated victims of 1929, Ookonga has his dates mixed!

Fancy Stockings

NEW hosiery shown in Paris shops has a dropstitch bracelet around the ankle which gives the suggestion of a clock at each side yet is short and merely hints at this effect. Another style shows an anklet on only one stocking of a pair.

Fanciful stockings have painted designs on the instep such as carnations in natural colors, with the additional decoration of a long slim clock up the sides.

A DISH A DAY

By Nancy Dorris

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

The perfect main dish for the Sunday supper may be cold or hot. It must, however, be dainty and yet sufficiently hearty to appease the appetite; it must be pleasing to eye as well as palate and it must be quickly and easily prepared.

A jellied salad of chicken, cheese, fish, or fruits and nuts assembled early in the morning and stored in the refrigerator until late Sunday evening answers the requirements of the cold dish. Any of the rarebits, a la kings, shrimp and lobster newburgs and toasted sandwiches do nicely for the quick hot special.

NANCY DORRIS

Sandwiches made from assorted fillings taken from the refrigerator and a hot beverage accompany the jellied salad and a home made cake or dessert or ice cream furnish the last course for a January supper.

In the recipe below chicken, shrimps, lobster, asparagus tips or a combination of cooked vegetables may be substituted for the tunafish. Or the distinctive element may be diced fruits and shelled nuts.

TUNA JELLY SALAD

One package lemon flavored gelatine
One pint boiling water
One-half cup chopped celery
Two chopped pimentoes
One-half green pepper, chopped
One teaspoon onion juice
One-half teaspoon salt
Dash of cayenne pepper
Two teaspoons horseradish, drained
Two cups flaked tunafish
Crisp lettuce or romaine or watercress
Mayonnaise to garnish
Servings: eight

When fruit and nuts are substituted for the tuna, omit the onion juice, horseradish, pimentoes and green pepper. One cup of fruit juice may be used for one cup of the boiling water.

To make the tuna jelly, dissolve the gelatine in the boiling water, stirring briskly. Pour a thin layer of the liquid into a loaf pan and chill until firm.

Combine the chopped celery, green pepper and pimentoes with the onion juice, salt, cayenne and horseradish. Place half of the vegetables in the loaf pan over the layer of gelatine. Cover with gelatine and chill until firm. Arrange the flaked tuna over the gelatine and cover with gelatine; again chill until firm. Add the remaining vegetables and cover with gelatine. Chill until firm, or until wanted.

At serving time unmould the jellied loaf upon a bed of chilled lettuce, romaine or watercress and carry to the table. Serve in three-fourth-inch slices on greens with a spoon of mayonnaise as a garnish.

The Farmer's Advice

By Alfalfa Smith

I WAS sorry to hear of another outbreak in one of our very large prisons.

I expected it.

I expect more outbreaks.

The average man who rides to and from his business in his chauffeured car—who sits at a mahogany desk and dictates beautiful letters to a charming young lady who says: 'You didn't say that"—who belongs to the most exclusive clubs—he does not and never can understand what goes on in the head of a criminal who is locked up FOR LIFE.

BUT——

The day is not far distant when every man will take an interest in what goes on in his own home and he will see to it that his own children MIND, and in this way we may save the State a lot of money

The coming year is going to be a great one for CUTTING DOWN EXPENSES and I recommend that while we are cutting down we cut down for our children and our children's children by paying attention to the youngsters of today, teaching them THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN RIGHT AND WRONG AS WE SEE IT.

Sports Silks

IF YOU are resort-minded and anticipate participation in active sports, frocks of patterned weaves are the newest in silks. Striped shirtings and façonne silk or those in which the motif is woven into the fabric in tiny geometric designs and small flowers are very interesting and colorful in an unobtrusive way.

The Modernization of the Home Featuring the Wide Window

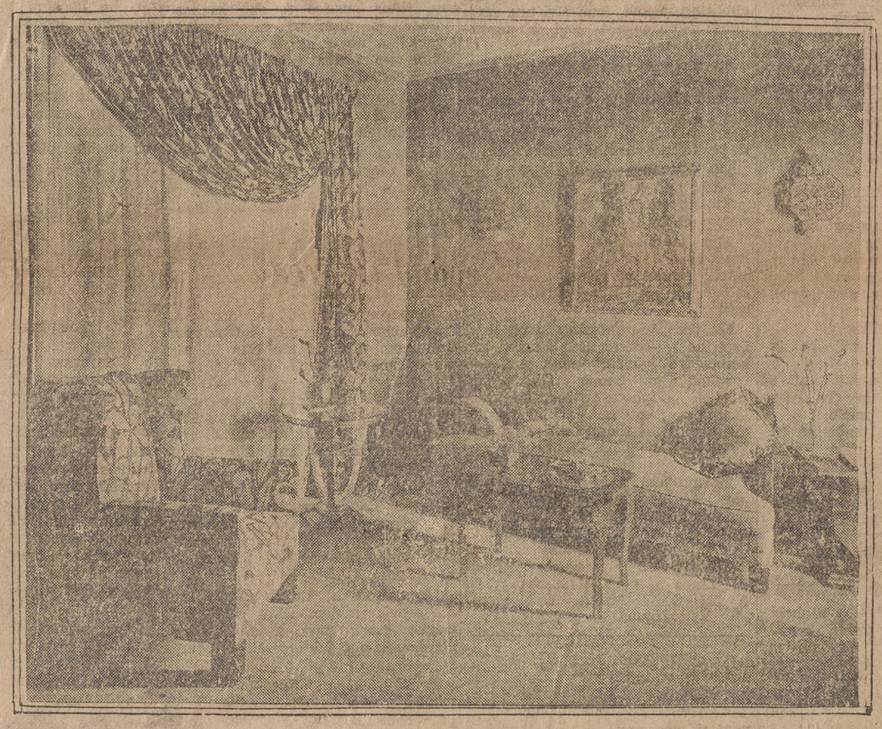
By Alma Zaiss



A NICE STUDY IN BALANCE WITHOUT MONOTONY IS FURNISHED BY THE TREATMENT OF THIS WINDOW CORNER

Dear Miss Zaiss:

In November we moved into what we thought was going to be a wonderful apartment, but now when things are settled the living room is just too disappointing. Before we got into it the big window seemed like it would be the joy of the room, but I didn't think about the French doors on the opposite side of the room too, and with those two big gashes cut in the walls there seems to be nothing left of the room. The French doors lead into the kitchenette. I don't know how to fix the door and window to give character. They must have shirred curtains on them, mustn't they? And then what about drapes?

I haven't enough furniture as yet, but can get extra pieces in a month or two. The sofa is a Lawson, upholstered in sort of coppery brown. The two big chairs are not mates; one is covered with a small pattern in green and gold and one is plain like the sofa. The secretary is walnut; radio walnut, an electrical console model. The room is awfully bare, but where can I put more furniture with so many doors? All I can think of is a coffee table for in front of the sofa.

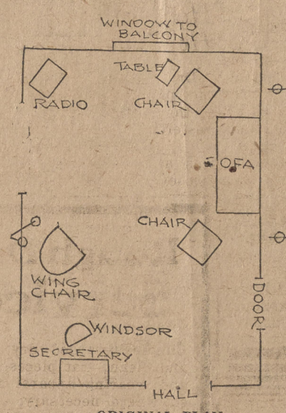
Please, Miss Zaiss, tell me what to get. I do not want to bungle and find when the money is spent things do not fit. I forgot to say the rug is plain, not blue and not green but between the two, and walls are stippled cream with just the least bit of grayish green showing in with gold and rust color—not bad.

Could we use a little bit of modern in this room, or would you do it in colonial? I like some modern things pretty well, but not extremes. Thank you very, very much for any help. MRS. R. A. L.

Interesting Treatment of Windows Adds Charm to This Room

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

VERY often it happens that a troublesome architectural feature can be made to contribute true decorative value to a room—if handled carefully. And since Mrs. L. is not burdened with an overdose of bulky furniture clamoring for disposition in this room with broken walls, we shall not allow the three doors and the big window to cause us much concern. To have so much light in a New York apartment is indeed a blessing. These wide open spaces should be accepted at their full value and be given a treatment that will make them as interesting as possible.



ORIGINAL PLAN

Fortunately, the large window at the end of the room is well placed in the centre of the wall, and is nicely balanced by the French doors to the left. The two doors at the entrance end of the room are also well balanced. Therefore the problem of arrangement is not a difficult one to handle.

Considering the room as it is at present, Mrs. L. says it presents a bare and characterless picture. Necessarily so. The foundation furniture is there, but those pieces of interest—the book shelves, occasional tables and decorative objects upon which a room depends for its individuality—are still to be purchased.

A suggestion of the modern may come in through these accessories, if desired, and if this course is pursued, then the window treatment may give sharp emphasis to the modern note. If colonial accessories are preferred, however, then the hangings should be of chintz or hand-blocked linen in feeling with the colonial scheme, or one of the new fabrics which are discreetly modern in design.

The coffee table Mrs. L. suggests could be used before the sofa, and another table to the right of the chair in mixed green and gold which has been placed to the right of the sofa on the plan of rearrangement. The secretary remains in its original position, with a bench before the desk instead of the Windsor chair. The radio has been brought down to the left of the French doors, and the copper-colored chair is used beside it. To the right of the French doors, as a balancing piece for the radio, we should like to see a well designed modern bookcase or cabinet filled with a few colorful books and pieces of pottery. The wing chair is reserved for the window corner, and beside it, to fill the open space between the sofa and window, another low modern table might be placed. A screen used to partly mask the entrance to the bedroom would bring color and pattern to the far end of the room.

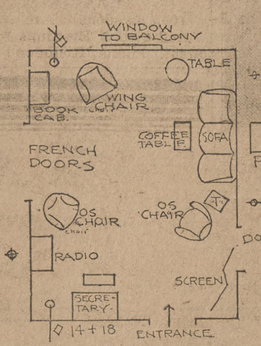


DIAGRAM OF REARRANGEMENT

As guides to the color scheme we have the blue-green of the carpet and the coppery brown of the sofa and chair. So far as the scheme has gone, it is a very good basic combination. The small patterned fabric of the gold and green chair and the covering of the wing chair sound rather indefinite and possess little individuality. But since we wish to feature the large window in this room, we are glad to have them neutral rather than obtrusive.

The corner of the room illustrated shows a charming window treatment which may work out splendidly for Mrs. L.'s room. One thing which must be considered, however, is the opening of the window. If the casements open outward instead of into the room, the one-sided overcurtain may be mounted on a straight rod and allowed to remain stationary. If the casements swing in, however, the curtain should be hung on a traverse cord so that it may be pulled to the extreme right when opening the window.

With the colors Mrs. L. has mentioned, it would be good to accent the copper note in the draperies. A pale copper-colored linen with an exotic modern figure in ivory tones and dashes of brown and tan would bring up the color of the copper-brown sofa and chair and echo the suggestion of rust in the pale mottled wall. Then glass curtains could be of beige-toned gauze, which should also be used for the French doors.

The tapestry wing chair is entirely out of key with our scheme, but that may be changed by having a trimly tailored slip cover of the drapery linen made to fit tightly over the present upholstering. Placed to the left of the window, balancing the drapery on the right hand side, this arrangement gives a pleasing repetition of pattern without achieving it in the conventional way.

Cushions of plain blue-green and dull, rusty gold are suggested for the sofa, and down in the copper-brown chair beside the radio there may be a blue-green cushion. Across the way the screen may be modernist, if desired, or it may be covered with the same linen as that used for the curtains. A decorative modern screen covered with metal papers in bronze, copper and gold and shellacked to preserve the surface would also fit into this scheme.

The space above the sofa needs a very worthwhile picture, preferably one of the conservative moderns in which the colors of the room are found. If the side lights are fitted with uninteresting fixtures it would add greatly to the scheme to remove them, using in their place a pair of conservative modern fixtures having shields of opaque glass.

We have assumed that the large window opening on the balcony is a full length window, or nearly so, and with the dramatic treatment suggested for it we visualize it as presenting a most effective first impression to one entering the room. By concentrating upon pattern and interest in this important spot a great deal of character can be given to this room, which in its present state does little to awaken the imagination. Coupled with the few new pieces suggested, the modern draperies and tailored cover for the chair may be said to alter the entire character of the room, changing it from one purely conventional, without definite personality, to one very pleasantly up to date—yet not extreme.

TELLING THE WORLD

THE LONG PULL AHEAD

THE Society for the Prevention of Calling Christmas Xmas reports discouraging progress for the year. Folks all over the country keep thinking the holiday is accordion-pleated and compress it into Xmas. Advertisers, show card printers and greeting card manufacturers insisted on saving space. But the society will be up and at 'em in 1930, just the same.

When society organized some years ago, it gave the argument that X meant, not the first syllable of Christmas, but a $10 bill. When the market started sagging in November and United States Steel went nose-diving toward 10, the Stock Exchange promptly made X the symbol for United States Steel. It looked like the society might win last year.

But around the first of December when Christmas started creeping on, out came the old four-letter word meaning Christmas and it slowly gathered steam. Folks were spelling it both ways, but the busy ones won. Xmas went over the top again.

When Ginsberg's Gift Shoppe put on a holiday sale, Mr. Ginsberg looked up the advertising rate per agate line and figured he could save $6.50 by calling it Xmas in block letters three inches high. Then down at the Swinnick Jewelry Emporium they doped out a half-page ad. with drawings and computed they could make Santa's whiskers twice as long if they contracted Christmas to its well known nickname. So Xmas it was again.

The greeting card industry was just as bad. With a four-line rhyme to fit into a greeting card six inches square, they still economized on lots of them and made it Xmas. If this tendency continues you will some day be opening cards that wish you a "Merry Xmas & a Hpy. N. Y."

Folks have become abbreviated-minded in the last few years. When Int. Comb. Eng. can mean Internal Combustion Engine and Cont. Bkg. pfd may signify Continental Baking, preferred, you can't expect average citizens to get up and howl when Christmas is compressed to less than half that length.

The headline writers take their share of the blame, too. A headline writer is a chap who would say "quiz" where Gene Tunney would say "interrogate." The headline writers' favorite Presidents are Taft and Polk. They would rather have Rudy on the radio page than Schumann-Heink, and you will notice George Ade gets more publicity than Joseph Hergesheimer.

All Americans go in for abbreviation. The college student at Palo Alta, Cal., is an undergraduate at Leland Standford jr. University. But can you imagine a cheerin section giving the varsity yell with three long Leland Stanford juniors on the end? No. That is why it is simply Stanford—win, lose or draw.

Can you imagine yeggmen on a safe-breaking job and the head cracksman whispering to his helper, "Hey, Joe, pass me the trinitrotoluol." Not unless you've got a good imagination. Joe will pass the good old TNT.

So that's why the Society for the Prevention of Calling Christmas Xmas has a long, tough fight on its hands. Xmas is simply swell to fit into any headline, and you never heard a copy desk cheering when it had to put "Thanksgiving Proclamation" into a snappy headline full of action and punch. Although some of the smarter headline carpenters have whittled Thanksgiving down to Turk Day. But that still wastes a lot more space than Xmas, and Xmas, we're afraid, it will continue to be.

SHAM FIGHT IN AIR STARTLES SAN DIEGO

The staccato of rapid fire machine guns and the roar of airplanes caused by the Columbia company on location in San Diego during the production of the all-talking aviation film, "Flight" now playing at the Fox-California theater, gave the San Diegans a good scare until they found out what it was all about. The sounds, indicative of battle in progress led them to believe that war had again broken out across the border in Mexico.

Upon investigation it was discovered that the bloody battle was being fought for "Flight" and that the mangled, bleeding mass of humanity which carried on the battle was a group of actors, none of whom were actually being shot despite the fact that the blood was streaming down their faces. So complete in every detail was the skirmish that the Marine officers, who had come down from the army base to watch the battle, were startled by the remarkable accuracy of the manoeuvers.

The principals in this aviation attraction are Jack Holt, Lila Lee and Ralph Graves. Frank R. Capra directed.

A Mickey Mouse cartoon "The Jazz Fool" is also on the program.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."
Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

NIGHT PATROL FOR STATE PLANNED

SACRAMENTO, Jan 9.—Eugene W. Biscailuz, superintendent of the California Highway patrol, today announced he had requested boards of supervisors throughout the state to submit lists of names from which 122 additional members of the patrol will be selected for immediate duty.

This step, the superintendent said, is preliminary to the organization of a strong night patrol for the highways as provided by the new motor vehicle act. Forty-five counties will receive additional officers under this arrangement.

The men thus selected will not of necessity be assigned permanently to night patrol duty. They will be used to augment the present squads in each county. It will be the duty of the captain to arrange the work so that a portion of his force will be doing patrol duty every night.

This additional force will bring the California patrol up to a total strength of approximately 425 officers and men, including extra duty inspectors. The law authorizes the supervisors to submit lists of prospective appointees, whenever vacancies occur or new patrolmen are added.

Applicants for such places must be between the ages of 23 and 36, of sound moral character, in good physical condition and with previous experience in riding a motorcycle.

They are required to take and pass a civil service examination, appointments being made from the eligible list thus created.

Superintendent Biscailuz said no attention would be paid by his office or any other state department to requests for jobs in the patrol. Applications should be made directly to the supervisors of the county in which the applicant resides.

Salaries of these additional officers will be paid by the state this burden having been removed from the counties by the new motor vehicle act.

In several counties the additions will double the existing force. Biscailuz feels that not less than two men should be assigned to night patrol duty in pairs rather than singly, because of the hazardous nature of the work.

Biscailuz expressed confidence that the proposed night patrol, when completely organized, would go far toward reducing the toll of accidents that occur at night on the roads.

Rates For Beer Cancelled By R. R.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 9—(U.P.)—Prohibition took a firmer grip on Nebraska today when the Union Pacific railroad was granted authority to cancel rates on beer shipments from Hastings to Fairbury and Hebron. The railroad company stated it was a burden to carry the rates any longer.

Happy Woman Tells How She Lost 19 Pounds of Fat in 27 Days

During October a woman in Montana wrote—"My first bottle of Kruschen Salts lasted almost 4 weeks and during that time I lost 19 pounds of fat—Kruschen is all you claim for it—I feel better than I have for years."

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast.

Be sure and do this every morning for "It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat."—Don't miss a morning. The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system.

At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts are carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body and this is followed by "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

If you want to lose fat with speed get an 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts from La Moine Drug Co. or any live druggist anywhere in America with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back.

1930 CAMPAIGN OF SAFETY OPENS

With the slogan "Yield the Right of-Way; Waste a Minute—Save a Life," the California committee on public safety headed by Arthur H. Breed, president pro tem of the state Senate, today launched its 1930 safety campaign.

Cooperating with the committee is the California Highway Patrol, of which Eugene W. Biscailuz is superintendent, and the police departments of 65 major California cities. The first 15 days of January will be devoted to an educational campaign through the press, radio stations, service clubs and moving picture theaters thruout the state. Thereafter, Superintendent Biscailuz announced yesterday, an order will be issued directing arrests on the part of the state officers. Similar requests from the committee will go forward to all chiefs of police.

Cooperating with the committee George E. Sanford, general attorney, California State Automobile association issued the following instructions to motorists:

"The right of way rule was substantially changed an added to at the last session of the legislature. The additions define the right of a motorist in making a left hand turn at an intersection and the rights and duties of motorists traveling upon or across highways designated as boulevards or through highways. The rule in simple language provides as follows:

"Upon approaching an intersection you must yield or give the right of way to any vehicle which has entered the intersection.

"If two vehicles enter an intersection at the same time, the driver of the vehicle to your right has the right-of-way over you and you must so yield.

"Turning left at intersection. If you desire to turn left at intersection you must give your signal as required by law, and yield the right of way to any vehicle approaching you from the opposite direction which has entered the intersection or which is so close thereto as to constitute a hazard should you proceed to turn. Having so yielded, you may then proceed to make your turn and all other vehicles approaching the intersection from the opposite direction must then yield to you.

"Entering through highway.—Upon approaching a boulevard or through highway you must first come to a complete stop. Upon entering the boulevard you must yield or give the right of way to other vehicles within the intersection or approaching so closely to your left as to constitute an immediate hazard or danger if you should proceed. After having so yielded, you may then proceed across the boulevard and all other vehicles approaching you from either the left or right must yield to you."

LIVE WHERE YOU WORK DRIVE BY C. C.

Keeping Richmond's new industrial workers in Richmond will be the goal of the chamber of commerce during the next few months.

According to announcement yesterday by P. M. Sanford, president, a determined effort will be made to cause the new industrial army now being recruited to live in the city where it works and spend its earnings with local business men.

Inasmuch as rough estimates place the new workers at 3500 in industries already announced or signed up, it was said that it becomes of paramount importance to see that Richmond secures them as permanent residents.

Publicity Program

The first step will be a publicity effort to bring home to present and prospective industrial workers the desirability of living in Richmond.

The second will be encouragement, without actual sponsorship of a program of building modern and attractive homes in which the highest type of industrial workers would be willing to live.

The third will be special work by the transportation committee looking to possible improvement of conditions by which Richmond residents reach the other cities on San Francisco bay.

Launching the first step in the program, the directors of the chamber of commerce have authorized the use of the Richmond United and the chamber of commerce newspaper advertising to stress the fact that Richmond is a desirable home community and to point out the many desirable residential features which exist hede. The February number of the Richmond United will be largely devoted to this theme, it was announced by Fred D. Parr, chairman of the publicity committee.

To Encourage Builders

A plan to have the chamber of commerce sponsor the construction of a new series of modern homes on some new tract in Richmond was not considered feasible but the chamber will encourage builders to construct fine new houses and will support such a program. M. A. Hays of the publicity committee prophesized that builders will be quick to see the opportunity now presented and said 1930 will be the biggest building year in the history of Richmond.

It was pointed out that new employes at industrial plants will be of little value to Richmond unless they can be induced to make their homes here. The number of such new employes to be expected in 1930 was placed at 3500 by Parr, estimating 2000 for the Ford plant; 800 for Filice and Perrelli, and 700 for a new industry yet to be announced. It is generally believed that this number will be greatly increased, inasmuch as the Ford plant will naturally attract other new industries to the inner harbor industrial zone.

Interest Great

Interest is great in all phases of the Ford situation. The members of the Rotary club have been invited by B. I. Groves, San Francisco manager, to make an inspection tour of that plant in the near future, this visit to be followed by the appearance of Groves before the club in Richmond with drawings, plans and specifications of the proposed Richmond plant.

Definite plans for the construction of the works have not been announced, but it is generally understood that the job will be undertaken at once and the plant completed late this year.

As part of the chamber's plan to interest Ford workers in living in Richmond, these workers will be placed on the mailing list for material to be published setting forth the residential advantages of the community.

Dry Agents May Seize Property Officer Rules

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—UP—Should Federal agents spy a bottle of illicit liquor on a shelf in a private home, they will be within their rights in confiscating all personal property in sight, said Assistant District Attorney Walter Wiles here tonight in interpreting a new court ruling.

Earlier in the day Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward held that prohibition agents may invoke the internal revenue act in their attempt to enforce the prohibition laws in dwellings and business establishments.

The internal revenue act provides that personal property may be confiscated if liquor upon which a tax has not been paid is found.

"It is legal to seize any personal property in any building, enclosure or home if liquor is discovered upon which the tax is unpaid," Judge Woodward said in part.

His ruling was believed to be the first in the nation whereby prohibition agents thus are authorized to call the internal revenue act into play.

$200,000 Suit Follows Crash On Causeway

MARTINEZ, Jan. 9—Suit for $200,000 damages was today filed in Alameda county superior court against the Golden Gate Ferry company and its successor, the Southern Pacific Golden Gate Ferries, Ltd., by Mrs. Cora Guerts of Martinez.

Mrs. Guerts is the wife of William G. Guerts of Martinez and mother of Mildred and Ranier Guerts, who were drowned when a car driven by Guerts plunged through the guard railing of the Berkeley ferry into the bay some time ago.

Guerts and his two children were drowned when his car was struck by an automobile driven by Frank Cengotita of San Francisco. Mrs. Guerts and another daughter, Helen, 9, were rescued.

Cengotita, charged with intoxication, was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to San Quentin.

Mrs. Guerts in the suit charges that the ferry company did not properly patrol the causeway, that it did not maintain life saving apparatus, and that a safe railing was not provided.

REPUBLICAN REGIME FOR SPAIN SEEN WITHIN YEAR

Copyright 1930 by U. P.

MADRID Jan. 9.—UP—Spain may be under a Republican regime before the end of this year or continue its monarchy.

After careful investigation in many circles it has become apparent that the future lies with one or two of the following three large groups, all of which agree that the dictatorship of Primo De Rivera must end:

The first group which might be called "the extreme right," will approve of any move for De Rivera's resignation provided nothing is allowed to endanger the monarchy. This group believes a period of transition would be necessary, during which freedom of the press and speech would remain limited, but that later elections could be called in which conservative and monarchial forces might expect to gain a majority and thus support the new government. Such a process would be smooth.

The second group belongs to the right too, but its members are convinced a parliament could be elected under actual law and that the constitution of 1876 could be perfected. They claim the 1876 document is sufficiently ealstic to govern the country within the rules of a constitutional monarchy.

Assembly Seen

The third group includes at present elements ranging from the "center to the extreme left" that is liberal conservatives, liberals, reformists, republicans of various tendencies and Socialists. These elements seem to be in tacit accord to form a constitutionalist front. At an opportune moment, regulated by circumstances, they would call a constituent assembly with full powers to decide even such questions as what regime would prevail in Spain.

It would be premature, after more than six years of dictatorship and strict censorship to predict which of the foregoing groups will have most influence over the masses. Some observers believe public opinion is asleep, others that there has merely been no chance for mainfestations.

If, however, the ideals of the first or second groups gain ground, and if De Rivera helps them to succeed, the political history of Spain will unravel without hysterics and at a more or less acclerated pace according to the pressure exerted by the third group.

King May Abdicate

As for the third group, whose members do not care whether or not the monarchy sinks, victory does not appear probable under normal means of action. If the group lacks organization, civilian and military support, there would seem to be doubt it can take power in 1930. No one, however, can venture concrete predictions.

The hypothesis that King Alfonso will abdicate, mentioned by various sources could become possible or probable only in event of complete success of the third group. Abdication probably would have to be approved by parliament, and the 22 year old Prince of Asturias would seem logically favored for the throne.

War Adventures Told To Local Church Group

Experiences of the British Army in the Garden of Eden during the World war were told the members of the Richmond Church Fellowship last night by Rev. J. W. Fletcher.

Rev. Fletcher served with the British forces in Egypt and in the Holy Land.

He gave an interesting account of war in the Holy Land and of the customs of the people there.

More than 100 persons attended the meeting which was under the direction of C. C. Kratzer, president. The speaker was introduced by Rev. T. D. Williams, pastor of the Community Methodist church where the large meeting was held.

The next session of the group will be held Feb 6 at the Stege Presbyterian church, it was planned.

The dinner last night was served by the women of the church. The musical program featured Miss Mary Roberts, Francis Wood, Mrs. Zelda Chapin, Mrs. M. Seymour, W. C. Roberts and Mrs. R. Phillips.

LAST DAY FOR AUTO PLATES WEDNESDAY

The time limit is swiftly drawing near for the renewal of automobile licenses, motorists are warned by the California State Automobile association. An estimate of the total of new numbers issued indicates that a grand rush of thousands of applicants will undoubtedly occur during the last three days of the period—Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

January 15 is the official closing date of the license renewal period. Motorists operating their cars without 1930 plates or without a temporary certificate or receipt to show that they have applied for new licenses will be subject to arrest by state and county officers after that date.

To avoid delay and inconvenience, tardy motorists will be wise to apply at once before the big rush during the final day or two, advises the automobile association, which is issuing plates to members from its San Francisco office, 150 Van Ness avenue, and its eastbay office at 399 Grand avenue. The state division of motor vehicles is issuing plates from Sacramento, Oakland, Fresno and San Jose.

A simple procedure is offered motorists in obtaining new black on orange plates. All that are needed are the white certificate of registration and the three dollar fee, or if the white slip has been lost or destroyed, a fee of $3.50, and the pink certificate.

Autoists who have paid off their contract notes to finance companies during the year and now own the family bus are required to have the ownership officially transferred by the state to their own names. The pink slip and an extra one dollar fee are necessary for this operation.

East Traffic Schools To Be Studied

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 9.—Desirous of obtaining first hand information concerning the methods of instruction employed for traffic officers in eastern states, Gen. J. J. Borree, head of the bureau of schools and education of the California Highway Patrol, will leave here today for a three-weeks trip to the east.

Borree, a brigadier-general in the Officers Reserve Corps and adjutant general of California for eight years, was appointed head of the bureau recently because of his experience in organization and instruction work.

He expects to use the information obtained in the east in drafting plans for a school of training for members of the patrol. This school will be launched shortly after his return.

Borree will study particularly the methods employed at Troy, N. Y., in training the New York officers and Traffic schools now in operation in Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

While in the east he also will make important investigations for the California Crime commission and the department of Finance connected with phases of modern law enforcement.

Funeral services for Peter Calangelo, 43, of Tormey, will be held tomorrow from the Crockett Catholic church under the direction of the Bert Curry funeral chapel. Interment will be at Martinez.

The Richmond Union high boys who will go to Lodi tonight are: Joe Viano, Howard Dalton, Bruno Roveda, Don Randall, "Bezo" Marcus, Leslie Scarcella, Lester Myers, Ugo Boschetti, Rollino, forwards; Kenny, Wilson, Benny Hoeffer, Wade McCain, centers; Merle Basket, Mike San Filipo, Earl Rogers George Degnan, Howard Dalton, Mike Brock and Carl Drexel, guards.

The Richmond Union high school squad will leave the local school at 2:20 o'clock, and will travel to the San Joaquin valey town in private machines.

GARFINKLES, STUDEBAKERS NATIONALS, CAGE VICTORS

Garfinkles are still leading the city league as a result of their 22 to 17 victory over the Santa Fe Cagers last night. The Studebakers were victorious over the Oleum Union Oil quintet by a score of 33 to 29. The Nationals of the B league defeated the Civic Center Tires 21 to 13.

A peculiar situation existed just previous to last night's A division contests. If Santa Fe had succeeded in defeating Garfinkle's team, there would have been a three-way tie for first place between Garfinfiles, Studebakers and Santa Fe. As it happened, Garfinkles athletes maintained their one game lead, and the Studebakers remained in second position, while the Santa Fe went down to third place.

Both contests were extremely well fought, and the fans were offered one of the most thrilling games of the season. The Santa Fe boys played phenomenal basketball in the first quarter against the strong offensive of Garfinkles squad, and were on the heavy end of a 7 to 5 score at the end of the first quarter. Garfinkles came back with a swift attack, with the result that they were leading by a 13 to 8 score. Santa Fe then made a counter attack, and tied the score at 16 all by the end of the third period. Santa Fe seemed to weaken at the critical moment and Garfinkles warriors gained a five point margin by the end of the contest.

Motors Win

The Studebaker-Oleum battle offered fully as many thrills to the record crowd as did the Garfinkle-Santa Fe scrimmage. Oleum could not find the bucket during the first half, with the result that the score board read 23 to 13 at half time. The Union Oil boys came back with a rush in the third quarter and the Studebakers barely held the margin of a 26 to 23 score. It was anybody's game in the last period and the score was in doubt until the final whistle.

The Civic Center Tires failed to show their usual speed last night against the Nationals in the B division. Although making a gallant attack during the last half, they were unable to break through for free shots. The Nationals were playing at their highest standard.

New Schedule

The league schedule for next week will be transposed. The card formerly scheduled for Jan. 13 will be held on Jan. 16, while Thursday's games will be played Monday night. The Studebakers will clash with Santa Fe at 8 o'clock Monday in an attempt to go into a tie for first place with Garfinkles. The Civic Center Tires will tangle with the Santa Fe Indians at 7 o'clock, while the Santa Fe Renegades will clash with the Nationals at 9 o'clock.

First Game

Garfinkles (22)—Lemkuhl (7), Barbieri (4), forwards; Gillan (2), center; Millicevich (5), G. Gordon (2), guards; substitutes, W. Gordon (2), Flynn forwards.

Santa Fe (17)—Roche (4), Tula (10), forwards; G. Nelson (2), guards; substitute, Vilalovos, forward.

Second Game

Studebakers (33)—Huzefka (11), A. Muth (3), forwards; B. Muth (18), center; Cornell, Bonham (1), guards.

Oleum Union Oil (29)—Marini (7), Anderson (6), forwards; Nisson (13), center; Atkinson (2), Gonzales (1) guards.

Third Game

Nationals (21)—Paoli (6), C. Pinto (5), forwards; Moitoza (8), center; Flores (2), Regalia guards.

Civic Center Tires (13)—Maloney (2), Linstedt (1), forwards; G. Haldemann (4), center; Seawright, Polese (2), guards; substitutes, Murdock (2), center; Craig (2), Seawright guards.

Fitts Aid At Sacramento To Check Story

woman named by Peavey leaving the Taylor bungalow after the murder.

It is considered likely that both Peavey and Hefner will give statements of their stories to investigators for the Los Angeles district attorney.

In the meantime, search for Sands continued. Asa Keyes, chief trial deputy in the Los Angeles district attorney's office at the time of the murder, once was quoted as believing that Sands killed Taylor. Later Keyes became district attorney and was convicted of bribe-taking.

Several Clues

That Sands knew much about Taylor has been known since the killing. He did not testify at the inquest, having fled to Mexico a day or so after Taylor's body was found.

Rumors were current here today that police have several clues which may lead to the present whreabouts of Sands and it was generally believed that location of Sands, with Hefner and Peavey already available, would solve the Taylor case.

Layton, Reiselt In Title Match

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—UP—The defeat of Augie Kiechkhefer, Chicago southpaw by Tiff Denton, of Kansas City tonight left the outcome of the world's championship three cushion billard tournament dependent upon Friday night's match between Johnny Layton of St. Louis, defending champion, and Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia, former champion.

Afternoon play in the tournament at Palm Garden today, was confined to the four low ranking players and had no bearing on the championship but enabled Charles Jordan of Los Angeles and Tiff Denton of Kansas to improve their standing. Benton defeated Gus Copulos of Detroit, 50 to 41, and advances to a tie for fifth place while Jordan defeated Harry Schuler of Brooklyn, 50 to 38 and went into seventh place.

Shires To Quit Boxing Game

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 9.—UP Art (The Great) Shires, who was exonerated today by the Michigan Boxing commission of charges that he attempted to "frame" a fight at Detroit New Year's night announced he would retire from the boxing game after meeting Al Spohrer, Boston Braves' catcher, at Boston Friday night.

BEARS U. S. C. CLASH TONIGHT

BERKELEY, Jan. 9—California and Southern California clash tomorrow night at 8 o'clock on the basketball court at Oakland Auditorium in the first game of their annual series, and, for a change, the northerners are decidedly the underdogs. The second bame will be played Saturday night at the Auditorium.

California will go into the game without the services of Captain Perry Ten Eyck and, probably, with Joel Coffield, guard of last year's championship team, in a new position at forward. Coach C. M. "Nibs" Price is cogitating the possibilities of using Coffield as a forward, since his abilities at hitting the basket have been well demonstrated in the past.

Price is well supplied with guards, but his supply of deadeyed forwards is extremely limited. One cause of the losses last week to the University of Kansas quintet was the marked inability of the Bears to hit the bucket.

Southern California, on the other hand, will go into the game tomorrow night with full strength and although they consider themselves handicapped because of the fact that they have been learning a new style of play under Coach J. M. "Sam" Barry, local opinion gives them a decided edge. The Trojans have won six of eight preliminary games, most of them by respectable scores.

Coach Barry and his men arrived in Oakland this morning on the Padre, to stop at the Hotel Oakland. Barry brought a squad of fourteen men, which includes seven lettermen, and a good selection of veteran reserve material. Barry hopes that the California games will provide the acid test of his team and, in much the same frame of mind, Price hopes that the games tomorrow and Saturday nights will serve to smooth down the rough edges of the play of the Bears.

The probable lineup:

California	Pos.	U.S.C.
Coffield	F.	Gardner
Tripp	F.	Pierce
Pursel	C.	Smith
Davis	G.	Caldwell
Vendt	G.	Lehners(c)

Officials: Umpire, Fitzpatrich; Referee, Dempsey.

Vet Hospital Sites Before Oakland Meet

Sites committees held the floor at a meeting of the East Bay General Veteran's Hospital association in the Memorial hall of Oakland last night.

After a short session of the main committee, the evening was turned over to the sites, committemen who discussed east bay sites for the new hospital.

Alameda and Contra Costa counties are represented by 18 men, who are scouring the entire eastbay for suitable sites available for the hospital.

T. H. DeLap, T. M. Carlson, John Miller and S. S Ripley, are representing Contra Costa county in the fight to bring the hospital to this side of the bay.

Earl Brown of Oakland was elected as chairman of the sites committee, and on Jan. 23 the entire committee will meet at his offices in the Oakland city hall and visit the proposed sites.

Transportation will be ready for the committeemen and they will visit all proposed sites in Contra Costa and Alameda counties. From these sites, four will be selected to be presented before the general committee in Washington, D. C. The sites will be presented, numbered first, second, third and fourth choices.

PAINFUL CORNS

Loosen—Lift Out

A little known Japanese herb, the discovery of an eminent German scientist (Dr. Stickel) instantly soothes the corn, callous or wart, then loosens it so that shortly you can lift it right out. This new discovery called "Corn Fly" excites the white blood corpuscles to action and granulates the corn at its root so that it drops out and leaves no trace of scar or soreness.

You will also find "Corn Fly Foot Bath Powder" a boon for sore, tired or perspiring feet.

"Corn Fly" for corns, 35c, "Corn Fly Foot Bath Powder" 25c, and "Corn Fly Bunion Remedy" 50c, (all three—$1.10 value—for $1.00), are sold under a positive money-back guarantee by Hi-Gene Co., Newark, N. J., or local druggist.

Church League Fives To Play Here Tonight

The First Christian cagers will tangle with the First Baptists in the A division contest on tonight's Y. M. C. A. Church league card. The San Pablo Baptists will attempt to go into a tie for first place in the B division with the Community Methodists by defeating the St. Edmund squad tonight. The B contest will start at 7:15 o'clock, while the main event will follow at 8:15.

The First Christians have had a successful season thus far, having lost only one contest. However, they will have a hard task tonight to repel the strong First Baptist squad. Although at the bottom of the league, the Baptists have now one of the strongest lineups in the league. Several failures during the first few weeks of the loop league set the Baptists back in the rear ranks, but they seem to have finally found their stride.

Rifle Club To Name Officers Tuesday Night

Annual election of officers of the Richmond National Rifle club will be held in the small hall of the Woodmen building at a special meeting next Tuesday night.

The club is opening a drive for more members as the range facilities have increased, so that more members may be accommodated.

Grant Ewing, president, announced that anyone interested in joining the club will be welcomed at the meeting Tuesday.

Following Monday's victory of the Community Methodists over the Grace Lutherans of the B league, the San Pablans have become exceedingly anxious to get back into a tie for first place. Preceding Monday night, the Lutherans, Community Methodists and San Pablo Baptists were all tied for first place in the B division.

Interest Grows In Baseball Contest Sunday

As the San Pablo-Thomas Motor Sunday contest draws near, enthusiasm on the part of local baseball fans is rapidly climbing to fever heat. When two traditional rivals get together on the same diamond, its interesting. But when these same two teams are tied for first place in a league, its an event. Sunday's battle is of the latter type.

The significance of the contest is heightened by the fact that the victor will receive the entire gate receipts. Both nines are determined to capture the pot of go'd waiting at the end of a victorious game. The result will probably be that the fans will be treated to an exhibition of fast, hard-fought baseball.

The game will be played on the First Street lot at 2:15 o'clock.

Liver, Gall Bladder and Stomach Trouble Relieved

FONG WAN
Eminently Successful Herbalist

2946 Morgan Ave.
Oakland, Cal.
Nov. 19, 1929.

THE FONG WAN HERB CO.

Dear Mr. Fong—I am writing this letter to express my gratitude for the splendid results and benefits I have received from the use of the Chinese Herbs prepared by you.

I had a complication of Liver, Gall-Bladder and Stomach Trouble with sharp, stabbing pains in the lower right side of my Abdomen. The region of the Liver was exceedingly sore and tender; so much so that even loose clothing became irritating and uncomfortable. My Stomach was also very sore to the touch and felt as if there were a lump the size of an egg in it. After meals, food which was very sour and burned the throat, was returned to the mouth. This condition steadily became worse over a period of a year. During this time, I was treated by two doctors without any appreciable results. Both decided that an operation was necessary.

By good fortune, I came into contact with a man whom you had treated successfully for an Ulcerated Stomach, and he strongly urged me to take your treatment. This I did.

Results were noticeable the very first week, and now, after six weeks, I am entirely free from the terrible stabbing pains and the soreness over my Liver. My digestion is good. The old feeling of lassitude has completely disappeared and I feel much brighter and more energetic than I have for years.

I am most happy to strongly recommend the herbs of the Fong Wan Herb Co. as prepared by you.

Wishing you unbounded success, and again thanking you for what you have done for me, I am,
Very cordially yours,
CYRIL MAW.

"GENERAL CRACK"
BY
GEORGE PREEDY

Copyright 1928 by Dodd Mead & Co., Inc.

The Warner Bros. & Vitaphone production starring John Barrymore, is based on this novel.

I

WHEN he arrived at the gates of the Château, the messenger remarked with scorn on the sumptuous prospect.

"All very well," he muttered, "when one's father has been Paymaster General and Viceroy of Naples—oh, yes, we all know what that means—"

He did not relish his errand and with a rather bitter eye viewed the obvious beauties of the scene.

Glancing to left or right as he went reluctantly on his way, he saw pleasant villas and noble alleys of an imposing park with here and there a glimpse of the smooth outlines of a classic temple or the silver jets of a stately fountain.

He was hot and tired, and his horse drooped as soon as the rein was slackened; he whistled and two tall grooms came from one of the long low wings that housed the stables.

The messenger dismounted and asked, drily, for the master of the Château.

He added that he was expected.

One of the grooms directed him to the great door at the top of the terraces, where he would find some one to attend to his business, and led away his horse.

"I am expected?"

"Yes, Monseigneur, Colonel Pons waits for you."

"I do not want to see Colonel Pons, I want to see your master."

"You cannot see him, Monseigneur."

Frowning with vexation, the messenger produced a letter from his pocket; it was garnished with dangling seals of black wax that bore imposing eagles.

To gain an entrance to the Chateau was some advantage; to satisfy the necessities of his fatigue and hunger would be another gain.

"Very well," he replied haughtily. "I will see Colonel Pons."

Colonel Pons was awaiting him and saluted him in a cordial and respectful manner.

"I am sorry," said this gentleman, "to fob you off with myself—but I act as secretary here and I shall be able to conduct your affair."

"You are Count Michael Hensdorff, no doubt," he remarked, and the messenger said he was indeed that personage.

They sat down to table, covering by commonplaces a keen scrutiny of each other.

When the cloth was drawn, Tokay was placed on the table and Colonel Pons filled the two greenish glasses; Count Hensdorff had been careful how he indulged in the light German wines, but he could not refuse the Imperial vintage.

"You know from whom I come?"

"Of course—it's because of him you come from that he won't see you."

"I've orders to see him—positive orders."

Colonel Pons grimaced.

"It's absolutely no use, my dear fellow!"

"He's here, I suppose, in this little paradise of his?"

"Yes."

"Well, can't you tell him—one soldier to another—"

"No, I can't. You've got to transact your business with me."

"I'm damned if I will."

"Just as you please," replied the Colonel with a slight deepening of the violet in his cheeks. "You know best what they'll say in Vienna when you tell them you wouldn't treat with me."

"They're not so desperate," declared Hensdorff sullenly.

"Oh, they aren't, aren't they?" snapped Colonel Pons. "Oh, aren't they indeed? No, I suppose not—with you sitting here, oh, of course not!"

Hensdorff writhed.

"Things look black," he admitted.

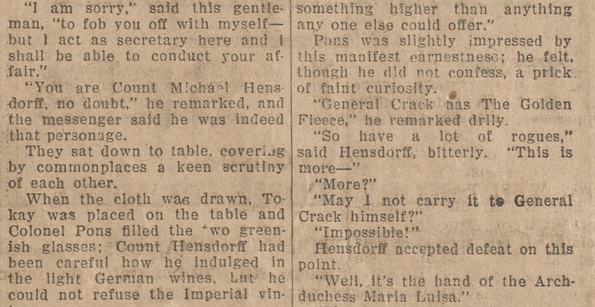
"I should think they do." Colonel Pons leaned forward in some excitement. "How many are in this, eh? All the old gang, one on top of another—England, France, Spain, Holland? We hear the news here, I can tell you. General Crack is well informed; that conference in Brussels is a farce; any minute it will break up—and the Allies are ready, while you aren't. Lorraine, Hungary and Prussia—all straining at the leash, eh?"

"I've no doubt that General Crack is well informed of all that," sneered Michael Hensdorff. "He'd keep his eye on his market—but if this pot boils over he'll get scalded, like the rest of us."

"What is your offer?" asked Pons. "We may as well come to that."

"I'm not prepared to make one. Don't fly too high. Who, after all, is General Crack?"

"You know," put in Colonel Pons quietly, "that his name is worth twenty-five thousand men—raised and put into the field tomorrow—that he has Pomerania and Kurland by crooking his finger—and that every Power in Europe is making an offer to him."



The glamorous soldier of fortune, General Crack.

At this last cunningly revised bait Hensdorff was forced to jump, though he saw the hook.

"No one can offer what the Emperor can offer."

"When he is the Emperor—the Elector of Bavaria, your master, isn't—yet"

"Bah!" cried Hensdorff. "With France behind him? General Crack is too wise not to know which way to jump. He likes the winning side."

"Your master is wobbling like a cork at sea; his pockets are empty and his head not much better. General Crack doesn't believe in him; in fine, he has nothing to offer."

Hensdorff pulled out the letter with the Imperial seal and flung it on the table.

"He has, he has, Colonel Pons, and here it is under his own seal—something higher than anything any one else could offer."

Pons was slightly impressed by this manifest earnestness; he felt, though he did not confess, a prick of faint curiosity.

"General Crack has The Golden Fleece," he remarked drily.

"So have a lot of rogues," said Hensdorff, bitterly. "This is more—"

"More?"

"May I not carry it to General Crack himself?"

"Impossible!"

Hensdorff accepted defeat on this point.

"Well, it's the hand of the Archduchess Maria Luisa."

"The devil it is!" grinned Pons. "Well, that's something!"

"The Emperor's sister—with the title of Arcnduke," added Hensdorff stiffly.

The Colonel laughed, recovering from his surprise.

"Eighteen and a blooming young woman," snapped Hensdorff, grimmer and grimmer.

"As plain as a Puritan's smock," commented Pons. "With two left feet by her walk—no use, Count, no use."

And he flicked at the Imperial letter.

"I'd like to hear General Crack's opinion on that point." Hensdorff was stubborn. "Carry it as you will, it's not an offer of every day—an Imperial Princess and an Imperial title."

"Imperial fiddle-dee-dee — why, her picture's been hawked through all the courts of Europe, touched up too. I'm well informed, you observe; the poor girl will never go down without a dowry, and that's what she'll never get. Clap her in a convent, Count, and save yourself trouble."

EIGHTEEN HURT IN THEATER BLAST

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—UP—A terrific explosion in the partially demolished Globe theater, across from the city hall, today spread panic among evening hour crowds and caused serious injury to 18 persons and slight cuts and bruises to many.

Two laborers who were working on the building are missing. It is feared that at least two of the injured may die.

Much property damage was caused, though there was no serious damage to any single building. All the northeast windows in the city hall were smashed, as high as the sixth floor, and plate glass windows were broken in the Wanamaker department store adjacent to the city hall.

Auto Crushed

Without injury to its policeman chauffeur, Harry Hayes, the automobile of Superintendent of Police William B. Mills was crushed in like an eggshell as it stood parked in front of the city hall. A flying girder fell on it.

There were two blasts from the Globe building. The first occured at 6 o'clock. Office workers were crowded upon the streets when a spark from a blow torch ignited one of five tanks of gas and compressed air. There was a terrifying detonation. As women started to scream and men to shout, bricks and chunks of concrete from the half-demolished walls and glass from shattered windows began raining into the street.

As the first fire engine arrived there was another explosion from those of the tanks which had withstood the first blast. A great piece of sheet metal container was flung upon the fire truck. Two firemen were injured badly.

Crowds In Panic

The second blast was all that was needed to stir the crowds into panic. It was 15 minutes before police reserves could restore quiet and sort out the milling crowds. Even then they had to call upon men from the crowd to help them, and form an auxiliary force. Several thousand persons were jammed into the arcade of the city hall.

All police officers and all available ambulances were soon at the buiding. Those slightly hurt were treated at the scene and sent home.

Of the 12 seriously injured taken to Mahnemann hospital, Policeman Charles Raisnor, 25, and Ladderman Frank C. Brady, 34 of the fire department, were believed to have but slight chance of recovery.

'Ma Killed Him'

"MOMMA KILLED THE COP," so stated Donnie Schroeder, 4, (shown above with his grandfather Henry Crawford), to police of New Castle, Pa. His story spurred hunt for his mother, Mrs. Irene Schroeder and two men accused of murdering Corp. Brady Paul of the State highway patrol near Newcastle.

PACIFIC COAST HIT BY RAIN, HAIL, SNOW, L. A. DRENCHED

sufficient snow to be measured. So the record says "trace."

The rain and melting hail sent water over the curbings and disrupted automobile and streetcar traffic in downtown Los Angeles. The rain was the heaviest of the season and put a definite end to the southern California draught.

ZERO WEATHER AT ARIZONA TOWNS

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 9.—UP—While Phoenix had a temperature of 30 degrees above today, Kingman in the northern part of the state was shivering at 4 degrees below.

Snow was falling in Flagstaff. The weather bureau predicted severe winter weather in the next fw days for the state.

RAIN IN BAY REGIONS CLEARS; WEATHER COLD

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—UP—Rain clouds that brought precipitation to northern California early today cleared away by noon and thermometers dropped to about 40 degrees.

A few flakes of snow were reported in Berkeley and the lower Sacramento valley. Half an inch of snow was on the ground at Marysville, further north.

There were 51 inches of snow at Summit, in the Sierra Nevada mountains

RECORD COLD WAVE REPORTED IN NORTH

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 9.—UP—The Pacific Northwest prepared tonight for one of the coldest waves of the winter season.

Sub-zero temperatures were reported through British Columbia and below freezing marks were general over Oregon and Washington. Snow had ceased falling over a wide area and piercing cold followed in s itwake.

Oregon City was hit by five inches of snow early today and a minimum temperature of 14 degrees. In eastern Oregon the thermometer dropped to 8 degrees at Baker and 7 at Bend.

More than a foot of snow covered wide areas in southern Oregon and northern California.

A minimum of 16 degrees was expected tonight from Seattle south to Ashland, Ore.

Despite the snow and cold the majority of roads were open to traffic and communication lines continued unimpaired.

WHOLE NATION HELD IN GRIP OF WINTER

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—UP—From Denver to Buffalo and from the Arctic north circle almost to the Gulf of Mexico the great central expanse of North America tonight was enveloped in a frigid storm that threatened to be king winter's most destructive gesture.

Moving slowly but with majestic comprehensiveness toward the south and east the tremendous storm lived up to every warning issued by preturbed forecasters during the 36 hours preceding its advent.

Chicago, Kansas City, the cities of Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and Oklahoma found their communications and transportation threatened by a whirling white blanket that grew ever thicker and more cumbersome.

Flood Menace

Rain and sleet preceded the snow on the southerly edge of the storm.

Floods added to the menace in Indiana. In northern Ilinois and the Great Lakes region the north and northeast winds were piling up huge drifts.

Chicago, hardly recovered from the historic pre-Christmas snowfall, awoke to new three and four foot drifts and a steadily driving fall. And the official prediction was that the fall might continue until noon Friday.

Loop Clears

Only the Chicago Loop was kept reasonably clear of the drifts. Automobiles were abandoned by the score in outlying parts of the city. In Grant Park alone at least 100 motor cars were deserted by their drivers. Surface cars, despite emergency crws of nearly 300 sweepers and plows during the night were moving with great difficulty.

In Kansas City more than 15 inches of snow fell before noon.

Galesburg, Ill., found itself isolated through suspension of all inter-city bus traffic and enforced annulment of passenger trains. Hotels were full of snowbound travelers and motorists. Jurymen were unable to reach the city for service in the circuit court.

One Killed

In Ardmore, Okla., Earl Hitt, a druggist was killed when his car skidded on a sleet-covered road and plunged over an embankment.

St. Louis and suburbs were coated with glistening ice which endangered the lives of motorists and broke more than 15 trolley wires.

Hundreds of acres of land were under water in Indiana because of flood conditions along the Wabash and White rivers, with forecasts for additional rain. Flood damage was greatest in the vicinity of Terre Haute. Mount Carmel, Noblesville, Anderson, Seymour, Decker and Elliston all of which reported rising rivers already out of ordinary bounds.

Roads Closed

The Indiana highway department announced the closing of 11 state and United States highways because of high water. Eighty long distance telephone circuits were reported out of commission.

Record low temperatures for the winter were reported from northern edge of the storm in the Canadian Northwest. Prince Albert, Sask., registered 49 degrees below zero. Other marks included Battleford, Sask., 58; Minnedosa, Man., 42; Saskatoon, Sask., 44; Edmonton, Alta 38 and Winnipeg 35.

FAMILY FOUND SAFE IN CABIN

rigged up bunks in a forest ranger's station.

About seven o'clock Friday morning the three men, woman and child will set out for Strawberry, about four miles away, which they expect to reach late in the forenoon. Provided they all have strength enough they will continue to Long Barn, which is 12 miles from Strawberry.

At Long Barn the party can get into automobiles and travel 20 miles to Sonora.

No Hardships

Mermo said he found the Nightengales in "good mood" and that "they had suffered no hardship." "They were cooking dinner and invited me to join them," he said. "We talked for several hours and retired early to be ready for the trip today.

At sunrise, the boy, Stanley, stepped into skiis for the first time in his life. Nightengale and his wife were given snow shoes. The trip here was uneventful."

Food Nearby

The food supplies that would have prevented hunger for two weeks had been stored in Mermo's cabin, which is close to that in which the Nightengales started an outing late last week.

Although nearly two feet of fresh snow had piled up in the region today, Mermo was undaunted as he pushed forward with his good news for relatives who were calmly but anxiously waiting.

Hope for safety of the lost trio was fading when the report of the rescue expedition's success was sent out.

It was broadcast over many miles of wire that Mermo had repaired on his way to Niagara creek, because his profession is a lineman.

A $1.25 to Rid Your Home of Moths May Save You Hundreds of Dollars.

MORTEMOTH KILLS MOTHS

The gas from Mortemoth crystals not only protects your furniture for a long time, but contact with it kills all moths, their eggs and their dangerous larvae in furniture which is already infested.

The proper method of using Mortemoth crystals is to tie them in small sacks, and to place these sacks down in the channel of the piece, as deeply as possible, behind the cushions, so that, upon expansion, the gas will spread and fill the spring units in the back and in the bottom of the piece.

When the sacks are empty, fill them again.
